Getting there

The only international airport in Uganda is Entebbe International Airport (EBB). The journey from Des Moines (DSM) to Uganda is approximately 26-30 hours one-way. Most ISU travelers take Delta to Amsterdam from the US and transfer to KLM Royal Dutch Airlines. Economy tickets are typically available for $1,400 - $1,500 per person round trip. Other connections are available through Doha, Dubai, Addis Ababa, Cairo, Brussels, Kigali, Nairobi and Istanbul.

Flights to/from Entebbe usually arrive and depart in the late evening. Upon arrival, it is advisable to stay in a hotel near the Entebbe airport (most of these hotels have airport transportation, some require advance arrangements with the hotel). Overnighting in Entebbe is preferable for security as well as personal comfort. It allows you to get a good night's rest and breakfast before the approximately 3 ½ -hour drive to Kamuli during daylight hours.

The map below shows the location of Entebbe, Kampala and Kamuli within Uganda. The town of Entebbe is about a 10-minute drive from the airport. Kampala is approximately a 1-hour drive from the airport, and Kamuli is approximately 3 hours from Kampala.
